

The Department of History
HIST 186: CULTURES OF INDIA

(Still from the award winning film Sita Sings the Blues)

Spring 2022
with Professor Arafaat Valiani

This course will be taught as a WEB-ASYNCHRONOUS course
CRN: 33062

In this course you will learn about one of the most important economic and geopolitical areas of the globe: the Indian subcontinent. We do this by introducing students to the different ways 'culture' has been defined in ancient, classical, early modern and contemporary India. These different conceptions are applicable to both the past and present in the region.

Students successfully completing this course will receive four (4) credits toward the sixteen (16) credits required to satisfy the Social Science and Multicultural (International Cultures) requirements for either a BA or BS degree. Asian Studies, History and Sociology majors will also receive credit toward their major requirement. This course fulfills a Global Context requirement for Business and Accounting majors.
